Michelle Obama, First Lady of the United States

Campaigning for President Obama's re-election

Time: 8:00

First lady Michelle Obama was in Florida campaigning for President Obama's re-election.

During her visit, she met with a group of Hispanic mothers to talk about the importance of the Latina voice and values as well as other key issues impacting Hispanic families across the nation. Univision Network News Co-anchor Maria Elena Salinas spoke to the first lady in a one-on-one exclusive interview. Mrs. Obama also discussed important topics including immigration reform and her role in advising the president on important decisions. In 2008, President Obama carried 67 percent of the Latino vote nationally. What is the president offering the Hispanic community to win their support? What is the first lady's reaction to the Pew Research Center poll that shows she is more popular than the President? Will she ever consider running for office?

Fabián Núñez, Noticias Univision Democratic Analyst and Alfonso Aguilar, Republican Analyst

Latino Vote

Time: 9:30

A new ABC/Washington Post poll shows President Barack Obama and Republican Presidential Candidate Mitt Romney in a dead heat with 47 percent of the vote. Among Hispanics, President

Obama continues to lead with 59 percent of the vote compared to Romney's 30 percent. As both candidates continue their quest for the Latino vote, this Sunday Jorge Ramos opens the debate with Democrat Analyst Fabián Núñez, and Republican Analyst Alfonso Aguilar to discuss the most important issues that will affect the Hispanic community during this electoral year.

Debate Gun Control

Time: 8:00

Twelve people were killed and more than 50 were wounded in one of the deadliest shootings in the history of the United States. James Holmes, a 24 year-old former medical student, was arrested in connection with this deadly massacre in Aurora, Colorado. Could this tragedy have been prevented? Should there be more gun control? This Sunday, Al Punto discusses this controversial issue with Israel Ortega, editor at HeritageLibertad.Org and Dana Sanchez, spokesperson for the Brady Campaign, an organization whose mission is to prevent gun violence.

Ricardo Arambarri, Primer Impacto and Univision News Correspondent and John De Leon, Immigration Lawyer

Deportation case

Time:10:00

After a three-year court battle, Encarnación Bail Romero lost parental rights over her five-year old son Carlos. In 2007, Romero was arrested during an immigration raid. Her son's custody was transferred to a Missouri couple who later adopted the young boy. The case's judge ruled she had abandoned her son while Romero insists she never intended to give up parental rights. Univision News Correspondent Ricardo Arambarri followed the trial and was in Missouri after the verdict was issued. This Sunday, Arambarri joins Al Punto to discuss the decision. Immigration lawyer John De Leon also joins to explain the obstacles some face in the fight to get their children back.

Debate about the Presidential Elections in November

Time: 13:00

U.S. voters are set to go to the polls in 102 days. The latest seven-day Gallup Poll shows that President Barack Obama and Republican challenger Mitt Romney are tied at 46 percent. What is each campaign doing right? What is the impact of mutual attacks and negative ads? After last week's Colorado mass shooting, will candidates take a stronger stance on gun control?

Pedro Pierluisi, Puerto Rico's Resident Commissioner, U.S. House of Representatives

Violence in Puerto Rico

Time: 9:00

In recent weeks, Secretary of Homeland Security Janet Napolitano visited Puerto Rico to meet with Governor Luis Fortuño, Resident Commissioner Pedro Pierluisi and law enforcement officials to discuss a plan to enhance security in the region. According to Pierluisi, the number of homicides in the United States between 2007 and 2011 fell by more 20 percent. During that same period, however, the number of murders in Puerto Rico rose by more than 55 percent. What is the Resident Commissioner proposing to do? In November, Puerto Rico's residents will vote on a referendum to decide whether to keep their current status as a Commonwealth or change it. Why does Pierluisi think it would be better for the island to become the 51st state of the United States?
